

Welcome Message

The 18th International Congress on Myelodysplastic Syndromes (MDS 2025) will take place from 7-10 May 2025 in Rotterdam, Netherlands.

Join the premier forum for the latest advancements in myelodysplastic syndromes, where international MDS experts and peers dive into the most recent discoveries, basic and translational research & MDS diagnosis, prognosis, and management.

Benefit from high-level research & science, while getting the chance to meet the global MDS community.

Together, we can enhance knowledge, establish collaborations, and move our field forward.
